

You are about to become involved in an exciting spiritual exercise. God has given you one or more spiritual gifts, if you are a Christian, and discovering that gift or gifts will be a thrilling experience.

This spiritual gifts discovery instrument was originally suggested by Dr. Richard F. Houts, a professor in the North American Baptist Theological Seminary, in 1976. Subsequently it has been modified by C. Peter Wagner of the Charles E. Fuller Institute of Evangelism and Church Growth, and keyed in to his classic book "Your Spiritual Gifts Can Help Your Church Grow."

Thousands of believers have been blessed by taking this test and it will give you a fairly accurate picture of what kind of ministry God expects you to be carrying out in your group of believers. However, do not regard the results of this test as final. The three or four gifts you score highest in may or may not be your real spiritual gifts. But you can be sure in any case that they are a starting point for prayer and experimentation. You will need other members of the body of Christ to help you confirm what gifts you have.

Spiritual Gifts Chart

Instructions: In the grid below, enter the numerical value of each of your responses next to the number of the corresponding statements on the preceding pages. Much=3, Some=2, Little=1, Not at all=0. Now add up the four numbers that you have recorded in each row, placing the sum in the "total" column.

Determine your gift-mix by circling the three gifts for which you received the highest scores. These are in all probability your dominant gifts. Place a check by the next three highest numbers. These are your subordinate gifts. With this in mind, begin to test out these gifts by attempting to use them systematically.
